

Hello Mr.Barra,

Let God be your judge – you choose convenience of accepting lies. You knew or at least guessed that plaintiffs had robbed and illegally evicted me from my room. Otherwise, why would you ask me at cross-examination about me seeing marshal? But you choose to silence your conscience.

And how you had come to the idea of improper entering of material evidences? You could fool one silly judge, but you could not to do that to all judges all the time.

Where your deliberately chosen path leads you?

I have feeling that I am going to win the appeal and if I am not, I am not going to give up; so don't be too happy in that case. But what you are going to do if I win? To beg on your knees PO Judd to lie under oath that she has found the broken phone under my couch?

I am writing to you in order to be kind to you and warn you do not do anything of this sort of things.

Irene Gelman harassed me and I complained to CCRB about police not acting, police det. Tompkinson not allowed me to fill complaint at 61st precinct long before the incident. CCRB redirected my complaint to 1st Police Plaza and I never received feedback from them. So, I thought that police had just taken revenge on me when arrested me without letting me to talk and the real commanding the arrest high-ranking police officer, not Judd of course, is hiding himself for that reason. Can you honestly say that I am saying too bad my address on the records? How come the operator does not get it? I wrote a letter about a month ago to the same address 1st Police Plaza and they seem trying to defend 61st precinct and do not investigate really.

It will be sorrow day when and if it will be found that the broken phone was brought to you not by police at all, but by your fellow prosecutor – related to Gelmans family, because it would mean that criminals have ties not only with police, but with the District Attorney office too. You see? I have not completely lost any hope on you yet.

Gershon Aizikowich